The objectives of our Associations as stated in our Bylaws are:

a) To build a European world-class High-Performance Computing (HPC) IT technology value chain that will be globally competitive.
b) To achieve a critical mass of convergent resources in order to increase the competitiveness of European HPC vendors and solutions.
c) To leverage the transformative power of HPC in order to boost European competitiveness in science and business.
d) To expand the HPC user base, especially SMEs (through facilitating access to HPC resources and technologies) and to open the possibilities for SMEs to participate in the provision of competitive HPC technology solutions.
e) To facilitate the provision of innovative solutions to tackle grand societal challenges in Europe such as climate change, better healthcare, predicting and managing large scale catastrophes and energy-efficiency.
f) To foster international cooperation in research and industry

Furthermore, ETP4HPC is represented on the Research and Innovation Advisory Group of the EuroHPC Joint Undertaking. ETP4HPC is tasked with the preparation and maintenance of the European HPC Technology Strategic Research Agenda, which is used by EuroHPC to define its priorities in the development of European HPC technology.
